

TIIAME doctoral student's monograph in eight languages

Makhsudov Mukhammadbek, a first-year doctoral student of "Land Use" Department of the Tashkent Institute of Irrigation and Agricultural Mechanization Engineers, is conducting research on his dissertation on "Directions for regulating the diversification of land use in the district." As part of this study, he published a monograph in Russian entitled "Diversification of land use is a factor of development" in Lap Lambert Academic Publishing the international publisher. In addition to Russian, the monograph has been translated into 7 other languages in collaboration with a leading German translation company.

Also, the young scientist's "Methods of forecasting the diversification of land use", "Diversification of land fund in the district", "Modern approaches to the assessment of agricultural land" and other reasearch results were published in the international publishing house Lap Lambert Academic Publishing, at www.morebooks.shop

(<https://www.morebooks.de/store/gb/book/методология-прогнозирования-диверсификации-земельного-фонда/isbn/978-620-2-66730-2>), www.amazon.com

(<https://www.amazon.com/Диверсификация-землепользования-является-фактором-развития/dp/6139443822>) are available for sale online in online stores. It is noteworthy that Mukhammadbek Makhsudov also participated in the publication of an international co-authored monograph "Innovative development of science and education".

Press service of TIIAME