

Respectful teacher

It is clear that you will not be thankful until you work really hard. Self-sacrifice and diligence keep people busy. Teachers who possess these qualities are always honored and esteemed. On March 1, teachers and professors of the department of Geodesy and Geoinformatics congratulated Erkin Nurmatov, who worked for long years in the department, on the occasion of his 81th spring. During the visit, the Rector's congratulation speech was delivered as well.
