

"Summer field school 2020" is finished

Tashkent Institute of Irrigation and Agricultural Mechanization Engineers, Faculty of Organization and Management of Water Resources, students of group 306 in the field of environmental safety in water management State Committee on Forestry, FAO Office in Uzbekistan, Summer field school 2020 has started in cooperation with URMONINVEST and Green Future. Within the framework of the 10-day field school, projects "Trails Building Work Shop", "International planning and design" were implemented, and participants were introduced to ecotourism, forest tourism, creation of national parks, organization of travel itineraries, tourist services, have mastered the skills of efficient use of forest lands for recreational purposes and increase tourism potential. At the end of the project, participants received international diplomas and souvenirs. The field school was organized in accordance with all sanitary-hygienic rules, the health of the participants was constantly monitored and provided with special hygienic means.

Press service of TIAME