

Online webinar with Moscow State University of Land Management

On November 30, 2020, a webinar on "Land management and land management system in Russia" was organized with the participation of Vice-Rector for International Relations, Doctor of Economics, Professor Vasily Ivanovich Nilipovsky of Moscow State University of Land Management. The webinar was attended by 4th year students of the Faculty of Land Management, professors, 2nd year masters and specialists of "Uzdaverloyiha" Research and Design Institute.

Professor V.I Nilipovsky greeted the leadership of the institute and noted that our institute and Moscow State University of Land Management have been cooperating for many years. He told about the visit to our institute in 2018 as part of the Russia-Uzbekistan Forum and the results of cooperation. He expressed confidence in further expansion of cooperation with the institute and the joint implementation of agreements in this area. In his report, V.I Nilipovsky told the audience about the experience of Russia in the field of land management and land management, as well as the ongoing reforms in this area. The webinar was actively attended by professors, students and professionals with questions of interest to them and exchanged views with them. At the end of the lecture, Professor V.I. Nilipovsky expressed his sincere wishes to everyone and invited the graduates to study at Moscow State University of Land Management.

Press service of TIAME