

Visit to the Hydrometeorological College.

Today, February 6, 2021, together with students of 115 group of direction "Vocational education" of "Hydrometeorology" faculty and lecturer of group associate professor Mukumova Dilrabo Inatovna based on order of Rector of our Institute on organization "5 + 1" visited Tashkent Hydrometeorological College for realization of activities. The students got acquainted with the organization of classes, implementation of new decisions of the President and innovative processes in the college, and exchanged knowledge. Today there is a wide range of opportunities for young people to devote more attention to independent research and the acquisition of knowledge. But serious use of the opportunities available remains unfulfilled because of our indifference. The Independent Study Day is held every Saturday and is organised to enhance students' knowledge through innovative methods.
