

Getting knowledge is an essential key to happiness

It is important to admit that on October 7, 2021, there was held an event, which was organized with the participation of the psychologist of the institute M. Mukhamedova with 1-2 year students of the "Land Management and Land Cadastre" faculty. of .. The event was titled "The State of Trance of Consciousness".

This topic was chosen by Otabek Umaraliev, a 2nd year student of "Geodesy and geoinformatics" faculty. Otabek is interested in a variety of topics and is one of our active students, who wants to complete answers to their questions. The participants of the training received full answers to the questions about the meaning by "trans-state". The conversation was very lively and interesting. At the event, O. Umaraliev conducted a "Psychogeometric" test to determine the level of leadership qualities of the participants. For the motivation during a round table discussion, participants strengthened their knowledge and skills in all areas and motivated each other to acquire knowledge and skills, only those students, who could work hard and being aware, can really be proud in the future. "If I can't find myself, I can lose my way in the future." All those presented at the social event, were really satisfied with the time spent and in conclusion it was suggested that the next event will be organized on the topic of intuition.
