

The centre of Spirituality and enlightenment

On the occasion of "11 February - International Women's Day" we invite you to a round table discussion. The round table will begin at 14:00 in the conference hall of the 4th floor of the Tashkent State University of Oriental Studies building located at 16 Shakhrisabz Street. As you know, the creation of the "Alley of Writers" is a great gift for our people, especially for young people. Proof of this is the events, big projects and forums that take place in this sacred place. In addition, institutions of higher learning have the task of studying the works and activities of poets and writers in order to promote the life of writers among students. ❌

At the Tashkent Institute of Irrigation and Agricultural Mechanisation Engineers a large practical work is also underway to commemorate the memory and work of the poet Abdulla Aripov, revered by the Uzbek people. In this connection, a large event will be held at our institute in March to commemorate the life and work of our poet Abdulla Aripov. A working group meeting was held under the chairmanship of Abdulla Aripov, pro-rector for youth affairs of the institute. The meeting was attended by representatives of the youth affairs sphere, heads of NGOs and members of the faculty.

Suggestions and opinions have been heard. There will also be an essay and painting competition, a poetry and video contest, and sports competitions celebrating the poet's life. Competitions and events have begun. We invite the staff, faculty and students of the institute to take an active part in the competitions and projects announced. The winners will be awarded by the rector of the institute and the institute's trade union committee. Also, remember Abdullah Aripov's poems, because there will be #tiamechallenge. The institute's management is also expected to participate.
