

Professor of the department was awarded “Scopus Award-2019”

At the Zarafshan Concert Hall on December 6, as part of the National Development Program Science-2020 was held the ceremony of awarding the leading Scientists of Uzbekistan "Scopus Award-2019". Deputy Prime Minister, heads of Ministries and organizations, representatives of leading world rating agencies such as Times Higher Education, specialists of Elsevier, rectors, vice rectors, doctoral students and others participated in the ceremony.

It is pleasant that among 37 scientists and researchers of the Republic who have won in various nominations there was the Professor of TIAME Obid Tursunov with the “Best Scopus Journey” award. We hope that this achievement will serve as a motivation for young researchers working in the institute, including the department, as well as for those who intend to be engaged in future research activities.
