

Cooperation with foreign research centers

Komlach Dmitriy Ivanovich, Director of the Scientific and Practical Center for Agricultural Mechanization of the National Academy of Sciences of Belarus, visited the Institute on April 7, 2021 under the cooperation agreement with the Tashkent Institute of Irrigation and Agricultural Mechanization Engineers. During his visit, D.I. Komlach got acquainted with the educational process and research work of the Faculty of Agricultural Mechanization, organized a roundtable with the faculty of the Faculty.

During the round table, D.I. Komlach told the audience about the Scientific and Practical Center of Agricultural Mechanization of the National Academy of Sciences of Belarus, the agricultural equipment created to date in the center, the ongoing research work, projects with foreign partners, exchanged views on the possibility of joint projects in the field of agricultural mechanization with TIIAME

the press service of TIIAME