

Student period is period full of pride and honor

It is important to mention that wisdom is a great notion, which comes through years. Its effective use of knowledge means that the every student cares about their future. Firstly, it is not easy to get an education; you need deep knowledge and intellectual potential. It is even more important to start studying seriously, diligently, and purposefully, when you start attending school. It is advisable that every young person, who has a great opportunity to carry the student's name will never forget about this requirements as well. Today there was a meeting with students of the Faculty of Water Resources and Management. It was attended by the vice-rector of the institute Ruzimurat Choriev, the dean of the faculty Rashid Khakimov and the deputy dean Jamshid Turdiev.

Welcoming the freshmen, the vice-rector noted that this educational institution's requirements that must be met by students. He paid a special attention that the conditions and opportunities created at the institute are created for students to study and rest, as well as develop their intellectual and physical potential. Then two talented students on a budget were invited to the floor for accepting the special congratulation.

They are Arashova Sabina and Muminova Gulshanoy, first-year students of the Faculty of Organization and Management of Water Resources. They expressed their gratitude to the leadership of the institute. Then the dean of the faculty R. Khakimov, recognizing that a student period is an honorable and responsible period, inspired and motivated young people by giving precious recommendations.

He wished them professional and personal success in their activities.
