

Victims of repression are patriots of the Motherland

On October 7, 2021, the students of group 406 of the Faculty of Organization and Management of Water Resources under the guidance of Kodirova R.T. visited the Museum of Remembrance of the Victims of Repression. There is no future without historical memory, and the memory of the dead is sacred. Honoring the memory of the victims of repression, who dreamed of today's bright days is the sacred duty of present and future generations.

During the visit, the students expressed their sincere gratitude to the heroes of the nation who sacrificed their lives defending our Motherland, fought for the freedom that the people dreamed of, and gave us a peaceful life.
