

Inspirational drops

If a nation is sea, the youth is wave. This is a reasonable acknowledgment of our President. Thus, it is important to inspire, encourage, and inspire each talent. This will undoubtedly contribute to the development of young people's talents.

At the initiative and sympathy of our rector, U.Umurzakov with talented and creative students studying at our institute was published a book "Ilhom buloqlari"(Inspiration keys) . Rector of the Institute held a solemn ceremony of handing the books to their owners. The students' eyes shone with excitement, including poetry and prose works. They greeted each other with great pleasure as they took the books in their hands, and their eyes glittered in the masterpieces of the complexes, their paintings, and their pride.

The rector of the Institute noted that this is the first book and he has given instructions to responsible students for publishing such a collection every year. We are sure that now the number of creative students who are interested in literature and art will grow. The thirsty person is thirsty for the water, and the person who is interested in spirituality and enlightenment will be so thirsty for books, art, and poetry. Water is the soul and blood of the crop. Thus, it is not exaggeration to say that the word art is also the root of spirituality and the blood of enlightenment.

Now students' creative works are ready for publication as a separate set. It can be said that this was a worthy gift on the eve of the 85th anniversary of our institution.
