Collaboration is a requirement of time

On March 12, 2020, at the UzExpo Center within the framework of the Uzbekistan Global Agro Forum held a training program for farmers and producers on "Introduction of Innovation and Improvement of Agricultural Management Technologies".

The training seminar was organized by AgroMart.uz - the Office of the Coordinator of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE) in Uzbekistan, and a professor at the Department of Irrigation and Melioration Bakhtiyar Shamuratovich Matyakubov. He made a presentation on the topic "Factors of application of water-saving technologies".

This training seminar organized in the framework of international cooperation and was very interesting for farmers and producers. In addition, farmers and producers got acquainted with water-saving technologies companies operating in the Republic during their visit to Uzbekistan Global Agro Forum at UzEKSPo Center.
