

Museum is a mirror of the past

There is no future without the past. Museums are a mirror of history. Museums of higher educational institutions are a special category of museums. The purpose of the museum is enlightening, cultural and spiritual enrichment. Museums comprise exhibits, various equipment and artifacts that have witnessed the past. In fact, they also have a language.

Undoubtedly, the former museum employee Vasily Kuzmich has extensive experience. He knew to the public as one of the museum experts in the Republic. During his career, he worked on the creation of museums in many institutions of the country, the creation of museums of higher educational institutions, such as the Termez Archaeological Museum, the Museum of the Tashkent State University of Economics, etc.

Under the leadership of the Vice-Rector for Youth Affairs Ruzimurot Choriev, an advisory council held with the participation of people who had worked at the institute for many years. During the meeting, an exchange of views took place on what to look for when improving the museum of our institute.
