

Visit to the Museum of Repression Victims

On February 13, 2021, the Deputy Dean for Youth Affairs of the Faculty of Mechanization of Hydromeliorative works O. Rozibaev and first-year students of the faculty visited the Museum of Repression Victims. The Museum of Repression Victims is an example of the great respect to the memory of our compatriots who were victims of oppression and aggression. Those who come here to remember their ancestors, especially young people, will understand the value of today's peaceful and prosperous life.

As we remember the memory of our ancestors who dreamed of today's free and prosperous days, we are once again convinced that due to independence, our country has achieved historical justice, our people have learned from the past and are striving for a great future, in which the sacred sites have a great educational value.
