

Khashar is a national tradition

Our people have a lot of values and traditions that other nations of the world may admire. One of them is "khashar". This old tradition includes cleaning, tidying up, beautifying streets, cultivating trees, and keeping the environment clean.

On the occasion of March 13, 2021 "National Khashar Day", on the territory of the Bukhara branch of the Tashkent Institute of Irrigation and Agricultural Mechanization Engineers was held a khashar by professors and teachers, in order to maintain epidemiological peace, promote a healthy lifestyle and sanitary-hygienic culture and landscaping.
