

Activeness is in dedication

Initiative and organizational skills are two wings of human activity. People with these qualities are always worth being noted. It is a sacrifice that requires dedication. There is no indication that thanksgiving will not be tolerated until you have trouble. It's no secret that love of his profession, his love for his family, his colleagues, and his kindness have a great influence on his country, his labor team, his neighborhood, and his family. It is all about Abduraupov Ramz Rasuljanovich, who has been working in the Institute since 1981. He has greeted this blessed 60 year on December 19th.

Abduraupov Ramz Rasuljanovich studied at postgraduate education at St. Petersburg State Polytechnic University in 1983-1986. For 15 years he worked as the head of the Educational-methodical department at the Institute. He has been working as the Head of Education Quality Control Unit since. He is Ph.D., associate professor.

R.R. Abduraupov - participated in many scientific and educational-methodical conferences and published about 30 articles. He is the author of two inventions.
