

Round table conversation

Consistent work is being done with students living in rented apartments and with close relatives. One of such events took place today at the Faculty of Land Management. At the initiative of the dean of the faculty Sh. Narbaev and the deputy dean for work with youth H.Eshova, a round table discussion was held with students living in a rented apartment and with close relatives.

The head of the department for youth affairs, spirituality, and education Z. Khaidarov provided information on how to draw up a lease agreement for students living in the house of close relatives and friends. At the end of the event, students received answers to all their questions.

Information from the Deputy Dean for Youth Affairs of the Faculty of Land Management Hurriyat Eshova

Press service of TIAME