

A worthy attitude to the New Year

Preparations for the New Year holiday have already begun in all regions of the country. We can see this as an example of places, programs, and decorated fires, buildings for special events organized in all streets, squares, territories and educational institutions. It is easy to look around the festive mood of New Year in Tashkent, especially at our institute. A group of talented students of the TIIAME initiated the organization of the New Year's Carnival for students under the title "New Year holiday in the student's interpretation". The administration of the institute, the primary organization of the Union of Youth of the Institute, the trade union committee of the institute supported the initiative of the students and organized a festive program and activities. On December 15, 2019 for all 280 students from all faculties and undergraduate departments of the institute was organized a festive event.

The management of the institute solved all the organizational issues, and the committee of the trade union of the institute was able to create a wonderful holiday table. We would like to thank the administration of the institute, the institute's trade union committee, and everyone on behalf of the Institute's Youth Union, on behalf of all the students, supporting this initiative and accepting the young people's suggestions. We realized that such activities needed. The values of friendship, acquaintance, solidarity, and the interaction of faculty students with each other can serve as a mechanism for practical work in the system of self-government. The event was great. All the students returned to their families with a cheerful mood. Gifts shared. The program, which includes fairy tale heroes, Santa Claus, Snowball, Super DJ and stage performances, fun games and dances, has made students feel indelible. It should be noted that the rector and all the vice-rectors of the institute visited the youth and opened the event.

This is our greatest joy. Thank you and we will continue to justify your confidence. May the coming New Year 2020 be a success for all of us.
