

The effect of wisdom

On February 16, 2019 the students of the faculty of Management of Water Resources held a roundtable talk with the staff of our Institute. During the interview, the students were given the concepts about participation in the conference, which was held at our institute, and how to write a scientific article.

Afterwards. Imamov Shavkat, head of the department for innovation and scientific training of scientific researches, gave information about the scholarships of the President, Beruniy, Navoi and the Scientific Council of our Institute, as well as ways to achieve them. Students received detailed answers to their questions.
