

Effective training

On May 18, 2019, the presentation of the interactive teaching methods that would be used in teaching could be considered. At the same time, professors and assistant deans Sh. Berdiyev and J.Rahimov actively participated in the "Electrical and Renewable Energy Sources" department.

The presentation featured interactive methods such as Socratic Chat, Debate, Debugging, and Case Study. The teachers of the department who participated in the training organized at Platforma Training Center received answers to their questions and received the necessary information.
