

Creative solution to problems

Expanding the mind of students and their thinking is determined by their active participation in scientific conferences. They need to know industry news, search for solutions to the challenges of time, and take an active part in their innovative approach to helping to increase the creativity of students. For this purpose in the lecture hall of the Institute was held the Republican scientific-practical conference on "Innovative approaches to land management and protection: problems and creative solutions" on April 22, the International Day of Earth Day.

Deputy Chairman of the Davergeodezcadasthre A.Mamatov, and Director General of the UzDaverloyiha language association R.Turaev, Vice-Rector for Research and Innovation, Ph.D. T.Z.Sultanov, dean of the "Land Resources Management" faculty, Sh. Narbayev and faculty members and students. During the week under the slogan "Land is our common wealth, our preservation is our duty", there was a debate on contests, innovative projects and photo contests among students, and program competitions on "Earth - a common wealth." The awarding ceremony of the students took active part in the competition. The winners were awarded with pupils, phones, books, diplomas and honorary certificates by our sponsors.
