

With an official visit to our Institute

It is obvious that the use of natural resources is one of the most urgent problems. The work carried out in this direction is not only good and noble, but also the issue of peace and prosperity of the peoples of the world. A delegation of the Asian Development Bank (ADB) headed by the Director of the Department of Environment, Natural Resources and Agriculture, Yasmin Siddiki, paid an official visit to the TIIAME. Yasmin Siddiki, Asian Development Bank's project which costs $ 150 million. The experience of using the water resources of the institute in the implementation of the $ 1 billion project. Negotiations on cooperation with the Asian Development Bank in the implementation of the project on water-intensive use of the Asian Development Bank were conducted.

Clive Lail, a researcher at the Water Resources Integrated Management Department at Melbrun University, shared a water management experience in Australia. Talked about the features of the use of interstate water resources and ways to implement them in Uzbekistan. We look forward to promising prospects for water and land resources, in one word, addressing issues related to the rational management of natural resources.
