

Mobile Workshop

On May 22, 2019, students of the 307th group of educational direction "Automation and management of technological processes and production" of the faculty "Agriculture and Water Resources Energy" have a lot of students. The group of laboratory-based lessons on "Fundamentals of Energy Efficiency" was delivered to the same group at SUE "Hydroponics Center".

The students were introduced to the principles of modern energy-efficient technologies in the production of new agricultural products.

Information on the "Energy saving Principles" on energy-efficient power plants, energy-saving technologies on modern energy-saving technologies.

The training sessions were conducted by O. Matchonov, assistants of the department "ET and EJP".

O. Matchonov's report on "Electrotechnologies and the use of electrical appliances"

The press secretary of the Institute, Rakhimboy Jumaniyazov