

The lab room has started

In the building E of the Institute, where the chairs of the Faculty Agricultural Mechanization of are located, temporarily closed for major repairs in the second half of the last academic year. At this point, the repairs completed. The use of AIF 2/16 project currently underway in the E-21 room at the Department of "Tractors and Automobiles" on the theme "Improving agricultural engineering training programs through the introduction of innovative solutions in foreign universities," including training and seminars. In order to organize vertical laboratory work on the study of hydraulic and electronic systems of tractors, a laboratory room equipped with computers launched. 21 computers are installed in the area, which are connected to the Internet.

Computer room is also widely used for organization of work related to electronic chair activity, implementation of course projects on "Tractor and automobiles" on the basis of the program developed by the department, conducting test control of the disciplines taught in the department, collection of information for graduate and independent work of students. Students and masters of the faculty "Information Technology" can use this room for independent work.

Information by the Head of Department "Tractors and Automobiles" M.O. Amonov