

A helpful training seminar

In order to ensure the integration of education and production, a training seminar on "Prospects, problems and solutions of water-saving technologies implementation" was held at the Faculty of Hydromelioration for the faculty and students of last years with participation of Bakhtiyor Shokirov, head of AGRODRIP, the leading company for design, development and installation of spare parts for water-saving technologies, and Alexander Kim, chief designer of the company.

the press-service of TIAME