

About the UK strain of COVID-19

At the initiative of the senior lecturer of the Department of Land Use Z. Khafizova and the senior lecturer of the department A. Mukimova in the conference hall for teachers and students was organized an event on the theme "British strain of the COVID-19 virus."

Physician of superior expert category of the Tashkent Center for Reproductive Health M. Azimova made a report. The British variant of the coronavirus is more easily transmitted and spreads much faster. The emergence of new variants of the coronavirus was expected, since viruses tend to constantly change. What should be done to prevent the spread of this species? The only and correct way to prevent the spread of a new strain is to isolate the infected patient and those who contact with him.
