

Scientific-practical conference

Traditional XVIII th young scholars, masters and talented students of the 6th scientific-practical conference (Modern energy-saving technologies in the field of energy and automation of agriculture and water management) are conducting at the highest level.

The conference is rich in debates and discussions. While the participants have the opportunity to gain knowledge and skills in the process of submitting their articles, professors and teachers are giving their suggestions and suggestions.

The press secretary of the Institute, Rakhimboy Jumaniyazov