

Visit to the State Museum of the History of Timurids

The reign of Amir Temur contributed to the development of scientific and cultural, educational and architectural, musical and visual arts.

The main goal of spiritual and moral education is to orientate the younger generations to the values of national culture, to form a careful attitude towards the Motherland, its cultural and historical past. For this purpose, first-year students of the Department of Electricity and Renewable Energy Sources visited the State Museum of the History of Timurid.
