

Teachers who have found happiness in their profession

A seminar training on the topic "Psychology of personality and professional development" was held under the guidance of Associate Professor of the Department of Professional Education and Physical Culture D. Mukumova. The 2nd year students of 11, 12 and 13 groups of the Faculty of Land Management attended at the training.

The main goal of the seminar is to develop students' creative thinking, to form knowledge, skills and abilities in the field of management, to teach them to understand simple psychological processes of people through analytical imagination, and also to explain the psychological aspects of personality through role-play games.
