

Visit to the Memorial Complex

On November 29, 2019, students of the 401 group of the Department of Irrigation and Reclamation visited the Memorial complex in memory of the victims of repression. This place, which instills in young people a sense of honor for their country and nation, made a lasting impression on the consciousness of our students. The visit organized by the curator of the group D. Mukumova.

We all need to educate and develop national consciousness in the minds of our youth. The best way to educate young people is to educate them by personal example, to become an example to follow. An example is a method of education, designed to organize a model of activity, deeds, and lifestyle. An example is the educational method of exceptional strength. The effectiveness of education achieved through complete trust and love.
