

Online attestation

The organization of the educational process remotely via the Internet also requires a great deal of experience and skills. It is exemplary that the staff of the education system, professors, and teachers, who have deeply mastered this process, use it effectively and appropriately in the pursuit of their goals. This movement is today's demand, the need of the hour. As the combination of knowledge and skills leads to competence, it expands the possibilities of communicative competence.

The final certification process for retraining and advanced training courses on "Agricultural Mechanization" organized in March 2020, at the Network Center for Retraining and Advanced Training of Teachers under the Tashkent Institute of Irrigation and Agricultural Mechanization Engineers will be held online on May 7. Attestation processes were carried out.

Javlonbek Kutlimurotov the head of the Network Center for Retraining and Advanced Training of Teachers under the Tashkent Institute of Irrigation and Agricultural Mechanization Engineers