

The traditional XIX scientific-practical conference of young scientists, masters and gifted students on "Modern problems of agriculture and water management" has started its work online

On May 14, 2020 at 10:00 at the Tashkent Institute of Irrigation and Agricultural Mechanization Engineers began the traditional XIX scientific-practical conference of young scientists, masters and gifted students on "Modern problems of agriculture and water management."

Rector of the Institute, Ph.D., Professor U.P Umurzakov opened the conference with a congratulatory speech.

The scientific-practical conference included presentations by B.Khafizov, 2nd year Master of Scholars of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan, on "Improvement of organizational and economic mechanisms for the development of innovative processes in APC" and S.Eshmatov, 3rd year doctoral student.

TIIAME Press Service