

«Construction the formation of living environment» (FORM-2019) AT TIAME

On April 19, 2019, in the framework of the XXII International Scientific Conference "Construction of the formation of living environment" (FORM-2019), which continued on the basis of different sections, presentations on scientific achievements in construction were made in all sections. After lunch, poster sessions on each topic were held among young scientists under the age of 25 under the theme "Youth Innovations".

At the same time, travels to newly constructed and constructed construction sites were held in Tashkent. The Center for the Islamic Civilization, the Tashkent city and the Humo arena were also visited.

Information of Faculty of Hydraulic Engineering.