

A guide to using the Moodle system in distance learning

This guide is intended for faculty and students and serves to build users' knowledge and skills in using the distance learning system.

Download the manual