Teaching international students has begun since 1956 at our institute, therefore it has its long-term history. The Department of Teaching Russian as a Foreign Language was founded in 1976, because lots of foreign students who wanted to study at universities didn't know Russian. More than 100 students from Africa, Asia, Latin America, the USA and Europe studied Russian Language and other subjects for one year before they continued their education at Agrarian Universities of the Soviet Union. The Department was reorganized into The Study Courses for Foreigners (SCF) in 1999. Nowadays Courses have many years of experience in teaching Russian and Uzbek languages to international students and enroll a lot of people from China, South Korea, Turkey, Algeria, Syria, Iran, Norway, the USA, Peru and Saudi Arabia every year. During the last few years (2013-2016) 24 of our graduates have entered the universities of our country and the UIS.

Methodology and techniques

The Courses provide a wide range of educational services in the field of teaching Russian and Uzbek as a foreign language.

The course duration is 1-10 months.

Group classes are conducted from 9.30 a.m. There are 5-8 students in each group.

All students are provided with course materials: study books for classwork and homework, dictionaries; and they are taught by highly qualified teachers who use the latest methodology and techniques.

Students acquire a good command of the Russian language and Uzbek languages; learn about Uzbek and Russian culture and literature.

Language courses are available at all levels. The academic program of the Courses is based on three cycles: beginner, intermediate and advanced. Advanced students can choose lectures or lessons on Literature and other subjects (Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, and Biology).

Beginner level is for people who don't know Russian or Uzbek languages at all. The aim of this course is to form ability to pronounce, to write, to read, to know some simple words and to understand the simplest grammar rules. At the end of the level students can tell and write a little about themselves and communicate in everyday situations.

Intermediate level improves beginner skills; students can write formal documents and letters, read more difficult types of texts.

Advanced level forms ability to understand scientific books, to write essays and university lectures.

The main principles of lessons:

- Communication;
- Making conversation.

Our social life

Participants can learn about Uzbek national customs and traditions; visit interesting places, museums, parks and special events such as cooking Uzbek national dishes – sumalak, plov and etc.
